FAIRBANK STATION

The future Fairbank LRT Station will be an underground station located on Eglinton Avenue West at Dufferin Street. The station was named 'Fairbank' after the surrounding neighbourhood, and to differentiate it from the existing Dufferin Station on TTC's Line 2. There will be two station entrances, one on the southeast corner of Eglinton Avenue and Dufferin Street, and another at the northwest corner of intersection. The station will feature 30 outdoor bicycle parking space, on-street connections to TTC buses and an expanded station plaza integrated with the existing St. Hilda's Parkette, including a water feature, gathering area and seating. Construction began in late 2016 with a slated completion date in 2021.
